Please be advised that additional fees apply for blessing ceremonies and receptions taking place on a Saturday or Sunday.

The Ginger Lily Wedding

Fragrant ginger lilies add a distinct tropical flair to this wedding package. Delicate ginger-lily blossoms are laid out in the shape of a heart on the sugary white sand of our beach where the bride and groom exchange vows. These fresh flowers combine with cool ocean breezes to create a wonderfully sensuous experience. Following the ceremony, photographs are taken of the newlyweds to capture the beginning of their marital journey.

The Kunuku Traditional Wedding

With this package, a couple's marriage is sealed on the beach underneath a quaint replica of a kunuku house—the traditional dwelling that was common in the Aruban countryside in bygone years. This unique setting symbolizes the importance of tradition as the couple makes the commitment to uphold one of the most special traditions of all. Photographs are taken of the couple both during and after the blessing on the resort's white-sand beach, either in front of the kunuku house or within the resort's impeccably manicured gardens. Champagne and cake are served after the ceremony amid the sounds of a sweet Caribbean steel-drum rhythm.

The Aruban Treasured Wedding

The Caribbean Sea has been generous in sprinkling Aruba's beaches with a bounty of beautiful shells. We have creatively used this treasure of shells to accent the romantic setting of our Aruban Treasured Wedding. An aisle fringed with seashells, palm fronds, flowers, and tiki torches leads the couple to a pretty seashell arch at the water's edge, where the bride and groom can exchange their marriage promises as the sun sets.
